ABSTRACT

Project Title: BizFlow: A Web-Based Distributor Inventory Management and Billing System.

This project presents the design and development of "BizFlow", a comprehensive web-based inventory management system specifically tailored for distributors. The system addresses the critical challenges faced by distributors in managing their inventory and maintaining accurate records through a unified digital platform.

Built using modern web technologies React and Supabase for the backend, BizFlow provides distributors with real-time inventory tracking capabilities. The system auto updates the inventory items by tracking bills with complete stock visibility. A core feature is the integrated billing module that generates detailed invoices with automatic calculations of taxes, discounts, and totals.

The platform incorporates advanced functionality for PDF receipt generation, allowing distributors to create professional, printable invoices that can be saved digitally for record-keeping and sharing with clients.

Key technical implementations include a responsive user interface developed with React, secure data handling mechanisms, and robust database management with proper relational constraints.
